WEDDING

In today's wedding scene, nature's the star. Couples dig the whole outdoor vibe, from saying "I do" surrounded by greenery to partying it up in a rustic barn. And let's talk lighting - rattan lamps and natural fibers are where it's at. They bring this cool, boho-chic vibe to island-style weddings, giving off a magical glow that's all about sustainability.

These lamps, made from stuff like bamboo and seagrass, add a touch of eco-friendliness to the whole affair. Whether they're hanging from the ceiling or scattered around, they totally transform the place into a dreamy paradise. Wedding spots worldwide are all over this trend, turning up the charm with natural lamps.

For couples, these lights are more than just decor - they set the mood, adding a rustic yet classy feel to their big day. They're like love beacons, drawing everyone into this enchanting space where memories are made to last forever.
